RE: Relationship with Worldwide Sales and Adam Brosius

We have recently learned that Adam Brosius, President of Worldwide Sales has been indicted in Federal Court for business activities that allegedly took place from 2014 through mid-2016.

Our relationship with Worldwide Sales started in 2018, well after these activities are alleged to have occurred. As you know, Worldwide Sales is one of the independent third-party contract sales organizations with which we do business and as such, Adam personally has no management responsibility or authority at SafeChain. While Adam dedicates his attention to these other matters, we will work directly with Garrett and Jenna, the Worldwide leadership team.

Worldwide has been an important contributor to our growth and we wish Adam the best as he works through this situation.
